

GRADUATE STUDENT LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT SEMINARS

This series aims to develop leadership and soft skills for graduate students. You need more than technical research expertise to create a well-rounded professional who will be in demand after graduation. You need the edge! Join your colleagues to build your professional skills.

AVOIDING LANDMINES IN YOUR REPORTS

Monday, November 13, 2017

3:30–5:00 p.m.

Register to attend via Webex

<https://goo.gl/nLWnZ3>

Or you could join the Safe-D group in

Room 401, SDSU Engineering Building

Michelle Benoit

Research Editor
TTI Communications

Gretchen Stoeltje

Assistant Research Scientist
TTI Planning and Engagement

Learn about legal and professional landmines to be aware of when producing a report, including:

- How to structure references.
- What is a valid and appropriate source?
- Self-plagiarism: yes, it's a thing!
- Copyright and fair use.
- Stuff on the internet isn't yours.
- Getting permission: when and how.