SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA CONFERENCE FOR UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH

November 20th, 2021

VIRTUAL

SCCUR's cornerstone program is a one-day conference held each November on the campus of a college or university in the greater Los Angeles area. Its purpose is to provide a forum for the presentation and discussion of the best research, scholarship, and creative work of undergraduates in the region, and thus to encourage excellence in undergraduate achievement.

Scholarly presentations in the sciences, social sciences, and humanities at SCCUR conferences are presented either as a fifteen-minute oral presentation or as a poster presentation. Art presentations will be presented as part of an art exhibit. Video presentations and creative writing will be presented in oral session format. You may choose either a poster presentation or an oral presentation (not both) as your preferred medium when you submit your abstract.

Science. Humanities. Social Sciences. Arts. Performing Arts.
